DIVINE WANTED

NEW YORK, April 20—(UP)—An alarm was broadcast today for the arrest of Father Divine, Harlem's negro "God," for questioning in connection with the stabbing of a white man described by police as a process server. The police said that Green attempted to serve Father Divine with a paper early today while the bald-headed negro was conducting a service of approximately 2,500 of his followers. Green was attacked. Father Divine disappeared during the confusion, the police said. Three negroes were arrested and held for questioning. The police were able to learn but little of the attack.

Civil Service Commission
Finds Charges Citing
Misconduct Untrue

INVESTIGATION PLANNED

Officials to meet Monday to Determine Powers

Alva Shasteen and Carl Radcliff, night police officers, were given a clean slate Monday night by the Civil Service Commission. They were exonerated of charges placed against them in suspension orders, and reinstated to their positions with full pay.

The decision of the commission was unanimous. It was announced Tuesday morning by Harry Bartholomew, secretary, who served as presiding officer at the hearing last Thursday, when appeals were heard. The officers were suspended for six days without pay by Safety Director Charles

Record Scanned

The commission met until 10 o'clock Monday night to study the record of the appeal hearing. A written decision of the commission was to be prepared Tuesday by Carl C. Leist, solicitor, and legal advisor to the board.

Realizing the necessity of new regulations in the police department, the commission will meet again next Monday night to determine what powers it has in making rules for the department. Attorneys participating in the hearing last Thursday night agreed new regulations were needed in the department. Counsel for the officers contended the charges placed against the patrolmen were nothing but "common practices" in the department.

Suspended March 17

The officers were suspended from the force on March 17. In the suspension order two charges were listed against Radcliff and three against Shasteen. They were both charged with failure to properly report and hauling persons other than to the police station in the police car. Shasteen was accused of placing fake calls on the report book.

They were given hearings before the safety director and found "guilty of conduct unbecoming their positions as police patrolmen." Both were reinstated to their positions on March 23 without pay for the period of suspension. Each stood to lose a few cents more than $19.

STATIONS READY

AKRON, April 20 — (UP) — Reports that Akron gasoline stations would be closed by a strike in sympathy with the strike of bus drivers and street car operators sent motorists hurrying to stations to "tank up" today. Union leaders said there would be no gasoline station strike, however. Additional policemen were detailed today to handle the heaviest traffic in the city's history as the bus-street car strike entered its fifth day. A new attempt to settle the wage dispute will be made at a meeting between strikers' representatives and Akron Transportation Co. officials Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, Ind., April 20—(UP)—Henry V. Raney, 19, died today as police stood by to charge him with the "puppy love" murder of his schoolgirl sweetheart. He died without denying that he shot pretty Mary Hartman, 15, to death because she wouldn't go riding with him. Mary died a few minutes after the youth fired one bullet into her heart as her mother watched last night. Raney died at 4 a. m. today in Daviess county hospital.

FOES OF COURT
BILL CONFIDENT

Burke Claims 10 More Senators Change to Opponents' Side

WASHINGTON, April 20 — (UP) — A gain of 10 senate votes was claimed today by opponents of President Roosevelt's judiciary reorganization program. They asserted that the administration is "looking for an alibi" for the plan. Sen. Edward R. Burke, D., Neb., said the new strength would enable the opposition to block passage of the measure in the closely divided senate. He intimated that supreme court validation of the Wagner Labor relations act was responsible for swinging the votes against the bill.

The administration, however, disputed Burke's claim. Attorney General Homer S. Cummings said "we have the votes in the senate and house" to pass the bill.

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., foe of the court measure, replied to Cummings' renewed demand for enactment of the bill. He challenged the administration to state "what kind of legislation" is contemplated. "I would like to ask what kind of legislation the administration has in mind in view of the fact that the supreme court already has made decisions the way the administration wants them," Wheeler said.

"What kind of a majority does the administration want on the court and what measures are contemplated? The court already has done what they said they wanted and now the attorney general has to look for an alibi. Clearly, from the attorney general's speech what they want is not an independent court but one that will do whatever they say."

W. P. A. OFFICIALS
TO REQUEST NEW WORK PROJECTS

County, township and village officials will meet in common pleas court room at 8 p. m. Tuesday to hear an appeal for new W.P.A. projects. Speakers will be district WPA officials, including L. L. Henniger, of Chillicothe, director of District 8, and John Graham, district engineer. Unless new projects are submitted to W.P.A., about 300 persons will be out of employment in the city and county within the next six weeks. Projects now in operation are rapidly nearing completion. Only three projects are listed for operation after the six-week period. The new projects would absorb only a few of the present workers.

An appeal to city council so sponsor projects will be made Wednesday evening. Union leaders said there would be no gasoline station strike, however. Additional policemen were detailed today to handle the heaviest traffic in the city's history as the bus-street car strike entered its fifth day. A new attempt to settle the wage dispute will be made at a meeting between strikers' representatives and Akron Transportation Co. officials Wednesday.

DENHARDT ASKS
VENUE CHANGE
FOR HIS TRIAL

COURT ROOM, NEW CASTLE, Ky., April 20 — (UP) — Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt's counsel today moved for a change of venue so that his trial for the murder of his dark-haired fiancée would not be held in "prejudiced" Henry county.

Judge Charles C. Marshall, tobacco-chewing veteran of the Kentucky bench, heard the motion, which was opposed by Commonwealth Prosecutor H. B. Kinsolving, in a courtroom packed with 400 spectators. New Castle's total population is 500.

For miles around Kentuckians old and young flocked to the trial opening which may be delayed two days by the motion if it is granted. The bald Denhardt, wearing a blue suit and necktie, sat at the defense counsel table. Next to him was the chief defense counsel, W. Clarke Otto, who served on the Mexican border and in the World War with Kinsolving and Denhardt.

Attorney General Rules
Mr. Duffy Must Pay $10

COLUMBUS, April 20. — (UP) — Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy ruled today that Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy is not entitled to collect $15 from the state for the charge paid by him to practice before the U. S. supreme court.

The attorney general's ruling against himself resulted from a request from State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson for an opinion covering the legality of an item included in Duffy's expense account in connection with the recent hearing of the Ohio Bell Telephone rate case at Washington.

Ferguson, on discovering the $15 item for admission to practice before the supreme court, wrote Duffy that the auditor's office had been unable to find any precedent for such a charge against the state, and asked for an official ruling.

After reviewing the law, the attorney general advised the auditor that "it is my opinion that any charge for admission to the supreme court by an attorney to act for the state of Ohio should be paid by the attorney personally. I, therefore, feel it is my duty as attorney general to rule against what might be my personal interest as a private individual."

HOUSE APPROVES
NEARLY BILLION
FOR FARM NEED

WASHINGTON, April 20—(UP)—The house appropriations committee today approved a $827,398,548 agriculture department appropriation bill for the 1938 fiscal year—a $143,402,149 increase over the same measure last year, but $5,078,407 below budget estimates. The bill appropriates funds for the agricultural adjustment administration, soil conservation, weather bureau, highway aid and dozens of other activities.

Most of the increase over last year resulted from a $178,500,000 appropriation for federal aid in highways, an increase of $110,500,000 over last year but $3,000,000 below budget estimates.

House leaders plan to bring the bill to the floor for quick action, either Thursday or Friday, depending upon clearance of pending measures.

Highlights of President's Address

WASHINGTON, April 20—(UP)—Highlights of the president's budget message:

"I regard it as extremely important that we should achieve a balance of actual income and outgo for the fiscal year 1938, and I appeal to you to join me in a determined effort to bring about that result."

"While I recognize many opportunities to improve social and economic condition through federal action, I am convinced that the success of our whole program and the permanent security of our people demand that we adjust all expenditures within the limits of my budget estimate."

"I recognize the need for flood prevention and control, but it should be realized that to finance such large immediate expenditures as are contemplated by the majority of the flood control bills now pending in the congress would impose an unjustifiable burden upon the federal treasury."

"It is a matter of concern to you and to me who are working for a balanced budget that so many special groups exert the strongest pressure to bring about increases in government expenditures."

"If we are to avoid a continuation of deficits we must resist these importunities or provide the necessary revenues to meet the increasing costs."

"The principal danger to modern civilization lies in those nations which largely because of an armament race are headed directly towards bankruptcy."

"In proportion to national budgets the United States is spending a far smaller proportion of government income for armaments than the nations to which I refer."

"New factors have so altered the fiscal situation as to make it necessary to present revised estimates of receipts and expenditures."

"In view of the reduction in revenue it became apparent that every effort should be made to offset this loss as far as possible by a reduction in expenditures."

Treasury Told to Close All
Loopholes Now Used

WASHINGTON, April 20. — (UP) — President Roosevelt revised his budget figures today in a special message to congress which asked $1,500,000,000 for work relief in the next fiscal year and projected an economy drive to offset lagging treasury revenue. He indicated there would be a tax bill at the next session of congress.

The message estimated a net deficit of $2,557,000,000 in the current fiscal year and $418,000,000 in the 12-month fiscal period which will begin July 1, 1937. In his January budget message the president estimated a $2,248,130,774 net deficit this year, and no net deficit whatever next year. Next year the budget would have been in balance except for an item of $401,000,000 for statutory debt retirement. The net deficit forecast for next year and the debt retirement item combine to establish the probable gross 1938 deficit at $319,000,000.

To Extend Leases
Mr. Roosevelt asked congress to extend the nuisance tax laws which will expire this spring and demanded that congress refrain from voting expenditures beyond budgeted items. He avoided recommendations of new taxes at this session, but proposed a treasury survey of the whole tax structure preliminary to (Continued on Page Eight)

JONES-BANKHEAD
MEASURE LOSES
F. D.'S SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, April 20 — (UP) — President Roosevelt, in his drive to keep down government expenditures, has withdrawn administration support of the Jones-Bankhead farm tenancy bill, congressional leaders said today. The measure, calling for $50,000,000 for loans to tenant farmers to help them buy land, has been favorably reported by the house agriculture committee. House leaders, it was learned today, were seeking some maneuver to keep the bill from a vote in view of the White House stand.

The president at the White House budget conference last night, according to congressional informants, told house and senate leaders that perhaps $10,000,000 could be appropriated for the program. "This would do no good at all," said one leader today. The bill in addition to the $50,000,000 would also require first year appropriations of $75,000,000 for rehabilitation loans to farmers and $10,000,000 for purchase of sub-marginal lands. This latter phase it was reported, was acceptable to the president.

50,000 FROM U. S. DUE CORONATION

50,000 From Overseas Expected to Spend Much Money

SHIP LINES BOOKED

First Event Scheduled For May 4

LONDON, April 20.—(UP)—An early estimate places the number of overseas visitors to the Coronation at 160,000 visitors—50,000 of them Americans. They are expected to spend more than $75,000,000 while here, in addition to $32,500,000 to travel to England.

One steamship line alone is bringing 25,000 Americans to Britain. This line has booked 21 sailings up to May 5, the date the Queen Mary sails with the last group of Coronation visitors.

From Canada, India, Australia, New Zealand and other dominions and colonies, 35,000 visitors are expected, swelling the number of English-speaking visitors to 85,000. From the continent, France is expected to send 50,000 across the channel. Other European countries are expected to send another 25,000 of assorted nationalities—thus the total estimate of 160,000 from abroad.

Visits to Average 3 Weeks

Travel agency and hotel officials, on the basis of advance arrangements, estimate that the average visitor will spend three weeks in Britain and will spend at least $500 during this period.

Most of this amount will be spent on accommodations, with entertainment next and gifts and souvenirs third. Travel, from taxis to Paris or Berlin, will take several dollars.

The average cost of an ocean trip from the United States is about $250, although many Coronation visitors will spend several times that amount. But using this figure as a basis, Americans will contribute $12,500,000 to the shipping companies.

Dominion and colonial visitors, many with thousands of miles to travel, will pay an average fare of $500, which totals $17,500,000. European visitors, with only short distances to travel, make up the balance of the $32,500,000 estimated for travel costs.

Many Arrive Early

Many visitors already have arrived for the three months of pomp and pageantry, parades and parties that will make up the "Coronation season." Most of those already here are from the remote parts of the empire, with a sprinkling of wealthy Americans.

A medley of events will be held during the summer. The joint advisory committee of the Royal Empire Society and the Overseas League, the English Speaking Union, various empire societies, societies of nationals, business concerns and many private individuals have planned social affairs for visitors.

Calendar of Events

A few of the events arranged: May 4—Reception by Lord and Lady Londonderry at Londonderry House for 1,000 guests.

May 10—English Speaking Union reception, with the Marquess and Marchioness of Willingdon as host and hostess.

May 15—Garden party for 1,500 guests at Sutton Place, by the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland.

State to Open Bids on C.C.C. Location May 11

Bids will be opened by the state highway director on May 11 for the relocating project on the CCC highway at Harrisburg, Division Engineer Frank W. Turner announced.

The project, to cost upward of $300,000, is one of the major road-relocating projects in Ohio this year. Another is on the same route at Fosters.

The Harrisburg project, which brought vigorous protest from Harrisburg residents, begins at the top of the hill immediately southwest of Harrisburg and ends at the underpass of the B. & O. railroad a mile and a half north-east of Harrisburg.

Plans call for the new roadway to extend south and east of Harrisburg, crossing the road leading from Harrisburg to Orient about 500 feet south of the present CCC thence extending in an easy curve south of the town and connecting with the present route about a quarter of a mile south of the first bridge beyond Harrisburg.

The bridge over main Darby creek a half mile northeast of Harrisburg, will be swung about to the northwest, the highway built west of the present road to the small hills, cut through the hills west of the present route 600 feet west, and in entering the B. & O. underpass will pass over the site of the barbecue building near the underpass.

The improvement will eliminate a series of dangerous curves, where many deaths have occurred, six persons having been 12 and 15-19, and will be witnessed by hundreds of thousands.

The welcome committee of the Overseas League has arranged visits to places of interest such as the Bank of England, Croydon airport, London dockyard, the Law Courts, the mint, the royal stud at Newmarket and the Denham film studios, etc.

There will be private parties of varying size too numerous to count.

Parties will be taken to see the ceremony of the keys at the Tower of London, golf tournaments are being arranged, there will be a series of luncheons and teas at the House of Commons and opera boxes will be lent by Britons.

Read this voluntary letter: "In regard to your ALL-BRAN, it is marked on the package 'best as a cereal, best for cooking' and, as far as I am concerned, you might add 'best for health.' Since I have begun to eat it, I have improved wonderfully."—Mr. H. E. Poole, 312 W. Franklin Street, Jackson, Mich.

ALL-BRAN corrects common constipation, due to meals low in "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs water and forms a soft mass, gently spurring out the system.

ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood. Isn't this food better than taking weakening pills and drugs?

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes. In chronic cases, with each meal. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

NEED OF RELIEF TO FORCE NEW STATE SESSION

April 29 Selected For Adjournment With
Deadlock Holding

COMMITTEE SUGGESTED

Harter Redistricting Act Put
on Calendar

COLUMBUS, April 20—(UP)—Administration leaders, despairing of any break in the deadlock between the house and senate before the tentative April 29 adjournment date, today openly speculated on the necessity of a special session early in June to tackle the perplexing relief problem.

Sen. Keith Lawrence, D., Cuyahoga, majority floor leader said he believed the enactment of any measure to care for the state's 350,000 needy this session was "highly dubious."

At the same time, Sen. Lawrence said he believed administration forces had enough votes in the upper house to pass the April 29 adjournment resolution which is on the house calendar for passage today.

Appropriations Next

Sen. Lawrence insisted consideration of the $89,000,000 appropriations bill, now in the senate finance committee, must come before any relief bill is taken up. He said the measure should be ready for senate passage by Friday or next Monday at the latest.

Leaders of the senate "no-new-taxes" bloc on the other hand contend consideration of the relief bill must come first in order to determine how much must be slashed from the measure to finance poor aid.—A proposal bitterly opposed by Gov. Davey.

The only ray of hope appeared to be the contemplated request of the anti-tax forces for appointment of a joint conference committee to iron out differences between the house and senate over the Huml-Nichols bill which passed the senate recently but was flatly rejected by the house because it appropriated $9,000,000 from an "empty" general revenue fund and contained no emergency clause.

Spokesmen for the bloc said they were ready to offer a compromise proposal that would call for a state appropriation for relief in 1937 and 1938 of only $7,000,000. Nevertheless, it was regarded that certain neither the house nor governor Davey would accept such a "compromise" even if it passed over the protests of senate administration leaders.

Sen. Lawrence said the senate has had "plenty of time to get the relief problem out of the way."

"If it isn't cleared up by April 29, I can see no reason why we shouldn't adjourn," he said.

"I think a special session is in-

Soybean Varieties for Ohioans Are Suggested

Predictions that the acreage of soybeans grown in 1937 will be 12 percent larger in Ohio than in 1936 caused Professor J. B. Park, agronomy department, Ohio State University, to recommend that farmers be careful in the selection of varieties adapted to their localities.

Selection of varieties should be based on field tests made over a period of years by the Ohio experiment station. The station has had an opportunity to test all varieties of soybeans which might be suitable for Ohio and has made up an approved list for the state.

Farmers planting soybeans for hay should use Scioto, Kingwa, Virginia, or Peldin in southern Ohio; Scioto, Kingwa, Manchu, Illini, or Dunfield in central Ohio; and Manchu, Illini, Scioto, or Dunfield in the northern part of the state.

Varieties Suggested
The recommended varieties to be planted for grain in southern Ohio are Scioto, Manchu, Illini, or Dunfield; for central Ohio, Scioto, Manchu, Illini, Mandell, or Dunfield; and in the northern area, Manchu, Illini, Mandell, or Dunfield.

The later maturing varieties are available if no relief law is passed now," he said. "In a period of six weeks or two months the situation probably will be acute and we'll have to return then."

Despite anti-administration claims that $9,000,000 could be cut from the appropriations bill, Sen. Lawrence said he believed the reductions would be "very inconsequential."

The senate finance committee was to meet at 10 a. m. today after two postponements yesterday. Anti-tax leaders on the committee admitted very little could be done in the way of reductions in committee because of the large administration membership. They said, however, that attacks on the measure would be made on the floor where administration votes are in the minority.

By a vote of 114 to 0, the house passed and sent to the senate the Maxwell bill, appropriating $4,060,500, to be matched with federal social security funds, for needy and crippled children and the needy blind.

The house also passed and sent to the senate a bill introduced by Rep. Walter Becker, D., Hamilton, authorizing the tax commission to require metered stamping machines for tax stamping cigarette packages.

A bill introduced by Rep. John A. Easton, R., Lake, raising from 10 to 40 the number of wives, widows or dependent mothers of World War Veterans eligible to admission to the Madison Home, Madison, O., was passed, 105 to 0, and sent to the senate.

Redistricted Bill Up
The Harter redistricting bill was informally passed and made a special order of business for Wednesday.

The senate received a bill introduced by Sen. Emerson Campbell, D., Belmont, appropriating $376,400 to the attorney general and industrial commission for a period from June 1, 1937 to Dec. 31, 1938 for the rehearing of claims and the employment of additional help.

ASHVILLE P.T.A. COOKING SCHOOL GREAT SUCCESS

Nearly 800 Attend Two Sessions, Society
Making Profit

The Parent-Teacher cooking school, held at the school auditorium Monday afternoon and evening, was what we would name a grand success.

And this success didn't just happen within itself. A lot of real hard work was performed to make it the success it was. Nearly 800 tickets were sold with the gross receipts around $100. Three local firms, Rush, Toole and Beckett, had their wares on exhibition and in demonstration. The business men responded nobly with many prizes.

The entertainment part worked in unison with the demonstration. Mrs. Marion Glick and Mrs. Herb Gregg were the two high ticket sellers. Mrs. Glick selling 124 and Mrs. Gregg 112.

Roy Ward Visits

We came in contact yesterday with Roy Ward, a son of the late John Henry Ward, who, with his family, resided near Ashville for many years. Roy said he was born near the "Stage Pond" quite a few years ago. He is employed at the "Buckeye" as our boys who are employed there call it, and his work is in one of the hottest places in the whole plant, the temperature being away up there.

Delegation to Meet

Tonight, if things move along as planned now, a delegation will go to Circleville and the court house, to see what, if anything, can be done toward furnishing some work for county W. P. A. workers. There are many of these workers in the county, with but little work in sight for them.

Church Progressing

"We are very much pleased with the progress our new Sunday school and church, the Church of Christ in Christian Union, has made," one of the members said to us yesterday. "There were seventy at Sunday school and we think that is excellent for a new organization, and the church membership is growing, too," he concluded.

Florida Praised

"In Florida large glass tanks are filled with water and exposed to the sun's rays which heats the water to almost the boiling point. Hot water whenever you want it without any artificial heat," Mrs. Salladay told us. Also that fishing is a great industry there.

Mrs. Salladay and her party, composed of her two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Hall, Mrs. Sarah Alsbaugh and the two Chaney sisters, George and Mrs. Cofman all of Canal Winchester.

On their return trip from Miami to home, they leisurely visited many points in Florida and stopped off at Chattanooga, Tenn., and explored Lookout Mountain, from which point five states are visible. And the snakey Tennessee river through Chattanooga furnishes a grand piece of scenery.

When ascending the steep incline to get to the top of the mountain, the conductor of the car was asked by one of the party, "where would we land if the cable should break?" He quickly replied: "That depends on what kind of a life you have lived."

Late April and early May, we believe, are the ideal times for the sit-down, preferably in a seat in the sun along a pleasant stream, with violets shooting up nearby and the breath of Spring in the air.

Don't Irritate Gas Bloating

If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating alkalies and "gas tablets." Most GAS is lodged in the stomach and upper intestine and is due to old poisonous matter in the congested bowels that are loaded with ill-causing bacteria. If your constipation is of long standing, enormous quantities of dangerous bacteria accumulate. Then your digestion is upset. GAS often presses heart and lungs, making life miserable. You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, groggy, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED. Thousands of sufferers have found in Adierka the quick, scientific way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adierka rid you of gas and cleans foul poisons out of BOTH upper and lower bowels. Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adierka. Get rid of GAS. Adierka does not gripe—is not habit forming.

NEW USE FOR OLD CARS

ONE of those floating items of interest remarks an increase in exports of super-annuated automobiles, now being bought up as junk, presumably to be converted abroad into guns and other material of war.

Heretofore the obsolete motor car has found the way to the automobile graveyard, which is situated in a gully on the outer edge of town and has come to be a familiar eyesore in the American scene.
This new development suggests that these shambles may be moved from our midst to foreign parts, where, if they achieve the destiny intended for them by their buyers, they should presently create new and even greater shambles.

This is much like getting of garbage by dumping it over a neighbor's fence and we wish there were a happier solution of the motor graveyard problem. However, if the neighbors are willing not only to accept our refuse but to pay for it, we are hardly in a position to object. And by the way, with lager now coming in tins, what are foreign militarists offering, f. o. b., for a case of 24 empty beer cans?

ROAD TO INDUSTRIAL PEACE

THE purpose of finding a road to industrial peace in the United States has been taken up with seriousness and determination at a series of conferences now being held in Washington between industrial and labor leaders. With the achievement of this degree of economic recovery toward which the country has been striving for seven years and which now, after innumerable bitter trials and disappointments, seems to be within grasp.

More than at any time since recovery
came within the realm of reality, the road
to industrial peace seems to be fairly clear.
Major strikes have been terminated. The conferences are being attended by representatives of industry, of labor, and of those governmental agencies concerned with the maintenance of satisfactory industrial conditions. These conferences should prove to be of inestimable value in the establishment of permanent peace between workers and employers.

NO BLUEBIRDS!

A CONTEMPORARY, with what seems to be an impressive display of scientific erudition, presents a quite elaborate case in support of the theory that there are no bluebirds. Blue pigments does not dye their feather, it is maintained, as red, black and yellow pigment does, and the bluebird's enchanting color is but the play of light on prismatic cells which reflect only blue rays.
The whole theory is incredible and may

TYDINGS AT KING'S COURT

WASHINGTON—It might be interesting to keep one eye on the European passenger lists to see whether Millard Tydings, Maryland's socialite Senator, goes over to view the coronation.

His father-in-law, Joe Davies, U. S. Ambassador to Russia, has invited Millard and his new wife to go over as the guest of himself and Mrs. Marjorie Post Hutton Davies, the breakfast food heiress. The Davies' have rented a swanky house in Mayfair, and the Hutton yacht, "Hussar," one of the most luxurious in the world, will be anchored in the Thames.

For Millard, the coronation would be an excellent way out of his present Supreme Court dilemma. He was one of the first break-beaters to come out against the President's plan.

Since then he has had a terrific reaction from his Maryland constituents. Those who make a ritual of the Maryland Hunt Club races are for him, but unfortunately they don't have many votes.

On the other hand, organized labor has.
So Millard may find it awfully convenient, to say nothing of enjoyable, to slip over for the coronation of King George. It would save a most embarrassing vote.

SWING MAN

Latest line going the rounds of Washington:

Constitution is what Justice Roberts says

MORGENTHAU HOWL

The bond drop brought an immediate howl from the Treasury.

Chief pride of Secretary Morgenthau is his maneuvering of government interest rates down to a point where the Treasury pays only the same total interest it paid
under Hoover, despite the big national debt
rolled up by Roosevelt.

Morgenthau has raised a lot of the money
in the form of short term paper, maturing in from one to five years. This means that he has to keep going back into the market
to refinance every time an issue matures.

Right here was where the Eccles policy pinched. As long as government securities were above par, Morgenthau could sell his new issues at low rates. But now Eccles inadvertently had jacked the rate on him.

Morgenthau's howl was behind the action of the Federal Reserve Board in convening its Open Market Committee and going into the market to buy government bonds, thereby bolstering bond prices.

In other words, the Reserve Board moved to cushion the severe monetary reaction which it, itself had precipitated.

be dismissed abruptly as tush and nonsense, particularly in view of the fact that the Columbia Encyclopedia described the bluebird as "about seven inches long, with sky-blue upper parts, a cinnamon red breast and white under-parts." The mountain bluebird, a related species, is a "beautiful azure in color." No bluebirds! What would Maeterlinck say? And from whence would we get our happiness?

As logical to say there are no violets and there is no Spring!

World At A Glance

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

It is hard to see how congress
can get through with its work without running all summer and maybe well on into the autumn.

In fact, the lawmakers might toil the year through, and still have plenty of problems confronting them, to be puzzled over in 1938.

The truth is that they have done
little but talk thus far.

Their talk has not led toward any conclusion, either. The situation remains nearly as hazy as when the gabfest began.

FINANCES PRESSING

The legislators simply will HAVE to decide on some sort of a financial program before July 1.

for, on June 30, the current fiscal year ends, and the government cannot go on into the next fiscal year under no financial system at all.

From now until the end of June is none too long for Capitol Hill to wrestle with that issue, disregarding everything else. That seems first.

While the fight is pending there will be considerable chatter on other subjects, but no action; all attention will be concentrated on the budget—and it will need

men for the administration is Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi.

Pat forecasts no tax increase,
but there has got to be one if the government is to live within its income, unless it cuts down on expenditures. And there is a vehement protest in congress against any reduction. Incidentally Senator Harrison himself wants an annual $100,000,000 increase (to be further increased later) for federal support of education.

This the Mississippi senator favors reduction in expenditures—
simultaneously with an increase.

Of course it makes no sense.

If the chairman of the senate's finance committee reasons thus,
what can be expected from the lesser experts in congress?

FIGHT OVER LABOR

Oh, the financial argument will last until June 30.

Even then, heaven knows what sort of a decision will be arrived at. But it will have to be a decision of SOME sort.

Next a row will start over labor legislation.

The related rights of capital and labor have been left wide open by the supreme court's decision as to the Wagner law.

The decision was, broadly speaking, a labor victory, indeed but it leaves a semi-infinity of details hanging fire. They will be fought over no end.

But the fight will not start until the financial controversy has been settled, at least temporarily.

SUMMER BATTLE SEEN

The capital-and-labor contest
should rage all summer.

Also:

Shall or shall not the supreme court be enlarged? That has not been settled, either, by the Wagner case decision.

And agriculture's interests
scarcely have been touched on.

All those issues have been tied up since the first of the year.

They are jammed up, to break loose at the end of June—when the fiscal jam will have to be broken,
after a fashion.

NO VACATIONS!

It looks like a busy summer on Capitol Hill, and no vacation for the White House.

And (gosh!) how congress hates
a summer session!

The White House doesn't like it, either.

Even the diplomatic corps enjoys getting away from the torrid months—but it has its interest in the impending struggle, too—and probably will want to be on the job.

CHAPTER 20

AS JACQUELINE turned away
from the door after ordering Colonel Lutman to leave, her mother slipped quickly toward it; but as her fingers gripped the handle, Jacqueline seized her mother's wrist, jerked her hand from the knob and placed herself with her back against the door. The colonel was safely out.

"For heaven's sake, mother, let him go!"

"But, Jacqueline, I want..."

"I know what you want," Jacqueline interrupted. "You want to call him back, and ask him not to be offended, and apologize for my rudeness, and say you're quite sure I didn't mean it. And that wouldn't be true. I did mean it—every word of it. Colonel Lutman is a low-down blackmailing bully, and he's getting no apology from me or you."

Mrs. Smith retired to the couch with an air of bewildered resignation.

"I'm sure I don't know what has happened to you, Jacqueline," she sighed. "To treat Colonel Lutman
like that—saying those dreadful things to him and ordering him out of the room as if he were the cook..."

"Cook, mother—not cook. Colonel Lutman is nothing more than a crook. You can take that from me. I have information."

"I don't care what information
you have, Jacqueline, you've no right to say such things. To his face, too! I've never felt so ashamed in my life. After all he has done for us!"

"All Colonel Lutman has done
for us is to land us in the docks
of a mess," Jacqueline interrupted.
"For heaven's sake, mother, do try to see things as they are and not as you'd like them to be. You don't like the idea of Colonel Lutman being a crook, and so you try not to believe it. But if a man isn't a crook he doesn't try to blackmail
a girl into marriage by threatening
her with a bad check."

"But Jacqueline, he didn't mean
it. Whatever else Colonel Lutman may be, he's a gentleman, and I'm sure he'd never dream of doing anything so dishonorable as going to the police about a check for a paltry $750."

"That's what he threatened to do, anyway."

"But only in fun, dear. I realized at once that he was only saying it to tease you."

"Tease! Then all I can say, mother, is that for a gentleman he has queer ideas of good taste. But he wasn't saying it in fun; you know that as well as I do, really,
the only way you won't face it. If ever a man was in earnest, Colonel Lutman was. He thought he could frighten me with that check into marrying him, but it didn't come off. And it won't come off. He can do what he likes with the check. He can go to the police if he wants to."

"I'm sure that he would never do any such thing."

"I dare say you're right," agreed the girl. "Probably he doesn't like policemen. How much money have we got, mother?"

"Money? I've really no idea.
Very little, I should think. I had $750 when I came to the hotel but I simply had to pay the hotel bill—
the manager actually came up to my room when I was packing and demanded it—and I haven't dared to count it since we got to England. I know it will give me a dreadful headache when I do. And it's all so unnecessary. If only you'd be reasonable about Jim Asson!"

"We won't discuss that, please,
mother. Talking about Jim won't make me reasonable: it's far more likely to make me go raving mad."

"You'd better take a couple of aspirin tablets, mother, and count your money at once; and however little you've got, you'll have to make it last until I get a job."

Mrs. Smith sighed.

"It's a dreadful pity, Jacqueline.
I'm sure you'll never find another job half as interesting as marrying Jim."

"Or half as profitable—eh,
mother?"

"My dear, of course not. No girl is worth $10,000 a year except as a wife, and there aren't many men who'd pay a wife as much as that.
If you've any consideration for your own happiness—and your mother's—you'll think twice before throwing Jim Asson away."

"All right, mother," said Jacqueline. "I'll think again. But it won't make the least difference."

Jim Asson strode into the Roth-erliffe office of Messrs. Stuckey & Stuckey, and laid out around him an air of distaste. The irregular clicking of Elsie Harrington's typewriter ceased—as it did on the smallest excuse—when she saw

who the caller was. Mr. Bells carefully finished off the sentence he was writing, and blotted it, before he raised his head and peered through the powerful lenses of his spectacles at Jimmy.

"Good morning, Mr. Asson," he greeted him.

"Morning," Jimmy glanced up at the clock. It was half-past 9.

"Good Lord! Do you people sleep
here?"

Mr. Bells gave a deprecatory cough.

"No, I—that is to say, we..."
The girl laughed shrilly, then said:

"Sleep here? Why, believe me, Mr. Asson, I wouldn't sleep here for the world."

Disconcerted, the managing clerk
turned to Jimmy.

"Did you wish to see Mr.
Stuckey?" Bells asked.

Jimmy nodded. "Where is he?"

"Mr. Stuckey is in court, sir."
"In court, eh? What's he doing there?"

"He is defending one of our—er
—clients, sir. A gentleman named Saviniski."

Jimmy laughed shortly and scornfully.

"Saviniski? I know him—the dope dealer. Let's see—wasn't it Colonel Lutman who started that guy in business?"

"I'm afraid I have no information on the matter, sir."

"What a liar you are! I suppose you'll tell me next that you didn't know Lutman was a money
lender?"

"I know that Colonel Lutman is a director of a loan and finance corporation," was the prim reply.

"Oh, you do know that, eh?
Have you ever had to go to him
for a bit on account?"

Bells shook his head with decision.

"No, sir. I am a careful-living man. I neither borrow nor lend."

The caller looked at him in mild astonishment.

"Do you get any pleasure out of life?" he asked.

"I am happy to say that I don't.
Ah, here is Mr. Stuckey," the clerk added quickly as footsteps were heard outside the room, and in another moment his employer entered.

With a curt "Good morning" to his visitor, Charles passed into his private office, followed by Asson, hung up his silk hat and took from his pocket a small bottle which he placed on his desk. Then he sat down and began to busy himself with some papers. Jimmy, seated in the armchair by the side of the desk, watched him for some moments, a sardonic smile playing around his thin lips.

DiMaggio Leaves Hospital After Tonsil Operation

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, April 20.—(UP)—The baseball season is on and Philadelphia rules the baseball world, for one day anyway.

Pressing a year of surprises the Phillies and Athletics, last year's cellar teams, won their opening games and today hold undisputed sway in the major leagues for the first time in baseball annals. But by nightfall both teams will share their No. 1 berths with others.

The rest of the clubs play their opening today. With fair weather forecast, approximately 224,000 persons are expected to see today's seven games. The Phillies and Bees, who played a double-header yesterday, are idle.

Today's games and probable crowds:

American League	Crowds Divided
Washington at New York ... 50,000	Evidence that baseball is in for a highly prosperous year was furnished by yesterday's two openers.
Boston at Philadelphia ... 15,000	A total of 66,063 attended the games—33,000 at the Athletics-Senators at Washington and 33,063 at the morning and afternoon games between the Bees and Phillies at Boston.
Cleveland at Detroit ... 38,000	President Roosevelt threw out the first ball at Washington and did not leave until the last man was out in the 2 hour and 45 minute game. Stellar work by a rookie battery team, Al Williams from Atlanta and Earl Brucker from Portland, enabled the A's to win 4-3 in 10 innings.
Chicago at St. Louis ... 15,000	Brucker, 30, and a former manager, doubled in the tenth off Joe Cascarella to send in Bob Johnson, who had walked, with the winning run. Williams, a big, strapping hurler, relieved Edgar Smith, another rookie who grew wild, in the third inning and held the Senators to four hits in 7½ innings to win his major league debut.
New York at Brooklyn ... 40,000	The Phillies positively kicked over the traces, even if it was against the Bees, by winning two games, 2-1 and 1-0.
St. Louis at Cincinnati ... 36,000	DiMaggio Improved
Pittsburgh at Chicago ... 30,000	The outlook for the world champion Yankees was brighter today. Joe DiMaggio, sensational outfielder who had his tonsils and adenoids removed Friday, left the hospital yesterday. The operation was intended to relieve the pain in DiMaggio's throwing arm.

DiMaggio is expected to be playing in two weeks," DiMaggio said.

First Baseman Lou Gehrig, who has been wearing a splint on a painfully bruised finger of his left hand and out of action for several days, will be in action against the Senators today, protecting his consecutive game record now at 1,808. He hasn't played a full game in a week.

NEW YORK, April 20.—(UP)—The first no-hit, no-run game of the season belonged today to high school pitcher Frank Tosa who hurled Townsend-Harris high to a 6-0 victory over Columbia Grammar yesterday. It was a 7-inning affair and lanky righthander Tosa struck out 13 batsmen.

Right halfback duties will go to Jake Kovalick, Ernie Abott, or Joe Gleason, with a possibility that Gleason, a right halfback the last two seasons, will be moved to quarter. Ed Simonich, Ironwood, Mich., giant, appears to have inside track at fullback, with Ring Binkowski, a sophomore, his most dangerous rival.

YESTERDAY'S HERO: Bucky Walters, Phillies, who celebrated his 27th birthday by holding the Bees to four hits, and winning, 1-0. The Bees got a man past first in only the fourth inning when Mayo and V. DiMaggio singled.

Elmer Layden Plans Two Grid Backfields

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 20.—(UP)—Backfield strategy as practiced by Knute Rockne in the days of the immortal "Four Horsemen" is being revived by Coach Elmer Layden as he drills more than 250 Notre Dame football candidates in spring practice.

The youthful mentor of the "Fighting Irish"—himself a former fullback with the undefeated national championship Horsemen of 1924—has announced plans to develop a "work horse" unit and a "pony express" backfield.

This throwback to his playing days under Rockne, Layden explains, is the result of realization of the value of speed and deception in football and of the necessity for two complete backfields to carry the ball for the Irish during a rigorous 1937 schedule.

The "work horse" unit will be composed of the heavier, slower candidates for the ball-carrying positions, and will start the games, playing through the first quarter or the first half.

Shock Troops in Reserve

The "pony express" combination is to be utilized in the nature of spot players, entering the games when the opposition appears to be slightly tired or when a scoring opportunity looms.

With these tactics, Layden hopes to pilot the Notre Dame eleven through a successful campaign against such opposition as Illinois, Carnegie Tech, Army, Navy, Northwestern, Southern California, and on successive weekends—Pittsburgh and Minnesota.

"One hard day of tackling may eliminate the lightweight backfield," Layden said, "or cause enough damage so that we shall have to change our plans and our lineup to get the most strength possible into one backfield."

"But if the experiment works, we'll have a better chance for a successful season than we would have with only one set of backs."

Three of the four members of the speed quartet will weigh less than 160 pounds and will stand less than 5 feet, 9 inches in height. Andy Pupils, varsity quarterback last fall, will go to left halfback to replace Bob Wilke, who is being graduated.

Pupils will handle most of the kicking and passing for the unit. Joe Ruetz, second string signal caller, will move back to guard, and Chuck O'Reilly will start at his position with the "pony express." Nevin (Bunny) McCormick, whose average of 5.7 yards from scrimmage last fall topped any back on the squad, will start at right halfback.

Mario (Motts) Tonelli, sophomore fullback from Chicago, who weighs 185 pounds and stands 6 feet, will round out the pony unit.

The "work horse" quarterback will be chosen from a field which includes Emmett Crowe, Willard Hofer, Danny Sullivan and Harold Gottsacker, all of them leaning toward the husky, stocky type.

Left halfback appears to be a race between Jack McCarthy, monogram winner last year; Bill Horan, Max Burnell and Chuck Borowski, none a giant, but all larger than the diminutive Pupils.

Giant at Fullback

Right halfback duties will go to Jake Kovalick, Ernie Abott, or Joe Gleason, with a possibility that Gleason, a right halfback the last two seasons, will be moved to quarter. Ed Simonich, Ironwood, Mich., giant, appears to have inside track at fullback, with Ring Binkowski, a sophomore, his most dangerous rival.

YESTERDAY'S HERO: Bucky Walters, Phillies, who celebrated his 27th birthday by holding the Bees to four hits, and winning, 1-0. The Bees got a man past first in only the fourth inning when Mayo and V. DiMaggio singled.

VILLAGE TEAMS SOUGHT FOR NEW SOFTBALL LOOP

Invitations Issued For League Competition; Four Enrolled

MANY RULES WRITTEN

10 Players to Be Used Under New Program

Officers of the Circleville Recreation ball league, including President George Hammel and Secretary Joe Glitt, have decided to seek out-of-town teams to fill out a loop of eight clubs.

The plan is to enroll four Circleville teams, the Circleville Athletic Club, Container Corporation, Eagles, and Battery Company, with four other clubs. Kingston is ready to join, and teams are being sought from Stoutsville, Ashville and Williamsport.

League moguls have agreed to use the inseason ball, 10 players, runners permitted to steal bases as soon as the ball leaves the pitcher's hand, the hurling box moved back to 40 feet, teams to be permitted 13 to 15 players, with an entrance fee of $5.

If an 8-team league can be formed, each club will play once a week, the fray to be of seven innings. The games will start at 6:30 with 15 minutes leeway provided. Friday night would be kept open each week for postponed games or contests with outside teams.

The next meeting will be held Friday at 8 p. m. in Hammel's office in the Knights of Pythias building.

All players seeking places on the Eagle team are to report at the Southern Ohio Electric Co. field Thursday evening.

About This And That In Many Sports

Landrum Has Help

High School Coach Jack Landrum is getting some help out of capable members of the high school faculty—Landrum is tied up with his track squad, so Freddie Watts has taken over the baseball team, and Virgil Cress is handling the golfers—The other day Watts suggested that he be named the coach when, and if, the baseball team won any games, but that Landrum's name should be used when the team lost.

Dance to Assist

Cress is leading the campaign to provide funds for lights and bleachers at the high school ball field—He is advisor for the Stodge club, which is planning a dance in a week or so to help raise some money.

Three New Reds

It was a new ball club in three key places that took the field for the Cincinnati Reds this afternoon against St. Louis—Jimmy Outlaw was at third base in place of Lou Riggs, Phil Weintraub replaced Babe Herman in left, and Charlie Gelbert was on second instead of Alex Kampouris—Peaches Davis, who came up from the minors in the middle of last season, was to take the mound against Dizzy Dean.

Yanks-Cards; Doyle

Jack Doyle, New York's leading betting commissioner, picks New York Yankees at even money in the American loop, and St. Louis at 8 to 5 in the National for pennants—Cleveland is in second place in the A. L. and Chicago in the National with odds 5-2 and 2-1, respectively.

Up to Athletes

It is too bad when a city the size of Circleville cannot show enough interest in a sport to put six or eight softball teams on a field—Persons in charge of league organization are attempting to enlist teams from other towns to fill out an 8-team loop—Interest has been failing in the last several years—There are many reasons, one to be charged against the players themselves—Many have showed no desire to play ball, but only to argue, use profanity and to do everything else to keep fans away—If a league is completed, it is hope that rules strong enough to outlaw any player acting in such a manner will be voted.

Bowling News

Container Corporation bowlers lost two out of three games, Monday evening in the 10-pin league to the Mykranitz Drugs despite their high total of 2,613 against 2,587.

The strawboard crew took the first game by 84 pins, but lost the second by 23 and the third by 35.

COAST COLLEGE MAY BE SOLD BY ITS BONDHOLDERS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—(UP)—Foreclosure action was threatened today against St. Mary's college, which produced the "Galloping Gaels" of the football world under the direction of Coach Edward (Slip) Madigan.

The school of only 380 enrollment has an outstanding bonded debt of $1,370,500, and bondholders said they had received no payments in three years.

The Bondholders' Protective committee recommended last night that the trustee foreclose on the bonds and sell the property covered by the mortgage. Chairman F. F. Janney said the trustee, the Central Bank of Oakland, would act as it saw fit on the recommendation.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WHEN An opponent makes a pre-emptive bid of 4 in a major suit, the chances are that the suit he fears, and is trying to shut out, is the other major. Such being the case, there is a great likelihood of finding one or more honors of that suit with your partner. That line of reasoning is sometimes used by fine players to dictate an opening lead of such a suit even if it has to be away from a guarded king.

After passes by North and East, South opened the bidding on this deal with 4-Spades and no further bidding ensued. The deal came up in a duplicate and was played at that contract by all pairs.

The fate of the contract depended on West's opening lead. At some tables the diamond 10 was led, which enabled the declarer to win 3 diamond tricks, as the heart Ace provided an entry to dummy, and a losing heart was tossed on the diamond K. Two clubs and a spade were the only losers with that lead. Where the club K was led, the contract was also made.

As it happens, a heart is the only lead that sets the contract. One declarer, Mrs. Mildred Archer, of Miami, Fla., made that lead, her reasoning being that as South preempted with 4 spades, she was desirous of shutting out her opponents and it was possible that East held an honor or two in the heart suit. With the heart Ace knocked out, it is impossible for South to make her contract, for she must lose 1 spade, 2 clubs and a heart.

How should South play for 5-Clubs against the lead of the heart Ace, if East had supported his partner's heart bid and later doubled the clubs?

Raw starch to be used cold is made by mixing three tablespoons plain starch and one teaspoon borax with one pint tepid water. A hotter iron is needed for this type of starch, because the heat of the iron must swell and stiffen starch.

For paraffin or wax on linen, scrape off gently to remove thickest part of paraffin. Use blotting paper on both sides of material while warm iron is held over spot until wax is removed. Change blotting paper to keep fresh absorbent surface continually over spot during treatment. Soak with kerosene and wash in soda.

KINGSTON BOY SCOUT TROOP WINS NUMEROUS HONORS AT DISTRICT COURT

PRESENTED HONORS FOR SPLENDID WORK

Many Appear For Promotion
to Higher Rank in Work
of Area Council

WHITEHEAD IS SPEAKER

Experiences at Jamboree Told
By Executive

Boy Scouts of Troop 5, Kingston, sponsored by the Presbyterian church with L. E. Hill as scoutmaster, won honors in Monday evening's Court of Honor. The Court was held in Memorial hall. The Kingston boys will receive the district flag from the Central Ohio Area council. The presentation was scheduled Monday evening, but the flag previously sent to Circleville cannot be located. A new one is needed.

E. C. Ebert, chairman of the committee on scout advancement, was in charge of Monday's meeting. The principal speaker was Marie Whitehead, deputy executive of Region Four, Cincinnati. He addressed the boys, their parents and friends on his experiences at the recent world scout jamboree in Birmengham, England. His amusing and entertaining talk traced his journey on the continent as one of the several leaders of the American delegation. A similar international gathering will be held this year in Holland, immediately following the national jamboree in Washington, D. C., June 30-July 9.

Scouts in Ceremony

The Rev. W. C. Peters, pastor of the Ashville M. E. church, and member of the troop committee of No. 84, delivered the invocation. Troop 158, Circleville made up the color guard. After repeating the Pledge of Allegiance, scouts were welcomed by Mr. Ebert, who then introduced the Scouters to assist him in making presentations to scouts of two troops.

Troop No. 5, of Kingston, performed the colorful candle ceremony, investing the rank of Tenderfoot on members of Troop 107, of the Methodist church, with E. L. Lel as scoutmaster.

Members of the Court were Dr. C. Phillips, Harold Grant, Howard Orr, the Rev. H. A. Sayre, and Robert H. Heistand. A training course certificate was given to John D. Barricklow.

Carl Martin and Montford Kirkwood played a trumpet duet.

James I. Smith, Jr., district chairman, commented on the progress made recently in local scouting. He compared the present status with that of last Fall, and noted that the number of Scouts in the district is almost doubled. There are now six active troops functioning, with Circleville's third troop soon to start.

CLUES TO DEATH OF AGED WOMAN HUNTED IN HOME

RIGID ECONOMY ORDERED IN ALL FEDERAL OFFICES

Billion and Half Needed in Next Fiscal Year to Assist Needy

A report to the next session on legislation to close tax loopholes or to enact new or additional taxation.

An emphatic demand for economy marked the revised budget message, which was prepared by the president after it became evident that his estimates of last January were overly optimistic. He called on congress to resist pressure of "special interests" for appropriations. He said pending flood control legislation would impose an unjustifiable burden on the federal treasury. The president reiterated that congress should not attempt to devote more than $500,000,000 annually to public works.

Action Reported

Congressional leaders simultaneously revealed that the White House had withdrawn its support from pending legislation to relieve the farm tenancy problem.

"While I recognize," said Mr. Roosevelt, "many opportunities to improve social and economic conditions through federal action, I am convinced that the success of our whole program and the permanent security of our people demand that we adjust all expenditures within the limits of my budget estimates."

The $1,500,000,000 requested for relief should be available early in June, Mr. Roosevelt said, "so that its expenditure can be properly planned prior to July 1," when the next fiscal year will begin.

That sum will increase to $1,816,030,913 (Mr. Roosevelt's new budget table carries the figure as a round $1,820,000,000). The sum to be made available for recovery and relief in the next fiscal year, Mr. Roosevelt's January budget provided $316,030,913 for such purposes. For the current fiscal year Mr. Roosevelt has obtained from congress an aggregate of $2,214,000,000 of which $1,425,000,000 was voted by congress in the regular relief bill last session and $789,000,000 this year in a deficiency bill.

THREE BANDITS OBTAIN $45,000 IN BANK THEFT

NORTHVILLE, Mich., April 20. (UP)—Three robbers, who sprayed tear gas on a dozen customers and officials of the Northville State bank as they fled, today robbed the bank of an estimated $45,000.

They sped south toward Ann Arbor and Toledo, Ohio, in a Plymouth sedan, reported stolen.

SHAW DIVORCE GRANTED

Marie Shaw, New Holland, was granted a divorce in common pleas court Tuesday from John Shaw, Jr., for neglect of duty and cruelty. Mrs. Shaw was granted the custody of five children, $500 alimony and $15 a week for the care and support of the children.

'PUPPY LOVE'

I don't want to have anything to do with you any more."

"When she said this, Mrs. Hartman told police, "Henry pulled a gun from his pocket and shot her." Mary fell to the sidewalk, clutching the Fleetwood child in her arms.

An ambulance was summoned, but Mary was dead before she reached the hospital.

Joe, Henry's brother, was standing by the car when the shooting occurred.

"I saw Henry and Mary come out of the house," he told Greenwell. "I heard them talking for a few seconds and then I heard a report which sounded like a firecracker."

Henry started across the street when Mary fell to the sidewalk. Joe called to him to "wait a minute."

Henry stopped, and warned, "If you follow me, I'll shoot you, too." Fired Three Shots.

"When he reached the other side of the street, he fired his gun twice and then ran down the street about a half a block when I heard another shot," Joe said.

Neighbors aroused by the shooting called police. Greenwell found Henry lying in a yard with the gun still in his hand. Greenwell snatched the gun from Henry's arm.

"Hello," Henry said. "It's you, isn't it, captain. I know you. It was a love affair, captain. I don't want to live."

Greenwell and a neighbor rushed Henry to Davess hospital in an automobile.

Police immediately began an investigation to determine where Henry got the .32 calibre gun with which he did the shooting. The gun had contained four cartridges and Henry used all of them on Mary and himself.

BILL TO FORCE DIRECT BUYING ASKED IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, April 20. (UP)—A bill that would prohibit state officials from making purchases through brokers or "middlemen," ostensibly to eliminate grafting in connection with state contracts, was pending before the house today.

Offered by Rep. Paul H. Ballard, R., Jackson, the measure would make it illegal for any state employee to purchase "materials, supplies, labor or services" from anyone other than the owner, manufacturer or dealer. The bill provides a fine of not less than $1000 or imprisonment for six months or both for violations.

The bill also provides a similar penalty for any persons who represents that "through influence, acquaintance or other means" he is able to obtain a contract for another person, firm or corporation.

The attorney general would be authorized to call the grand jury in any county to conduct investigations into alleged violations.

BOOKING AGENT FACES CHARGES IN GIRL'S DEATH

NEW YORK, April 20. (UP)—The state seeks a first degree murder indictment today against Mischa Ross, 31, musician accused of the hammer slaying of beautiful Tania Leelova, talented violinist.

Police announced that Ross, who was Miss Leelova's booking agent and married suitor, had made a "vague confession" in which he declared that he "must have struck" the 24-year-old brunette "with something" after an engagement in a rehearsal studio near Times square on Sunday morning.

But the prisoner did not remember striking her, nor whether it was he who dragged her across the floor and placed her form behind the gray drapes that lined the walls. His poor memory, he said, was due to drunkenness.

Ross, whose real name is Rosenbaum, was arrested early yesterday at the Mountindale, N. Y., home of his father-in-law, Nathan Nesselovitz, while his estranged wife, 20, and their 3-year-old daughter slept in an adjacent room.

He appears in a police line-up and in homicide court for arraignment today, while 15 witnesses go before the grand jury.
